Colour Disclaimer
Although every effort will be made to match colour output (unless discussed otherwise), there may be variations due to the different processes involved in proofing and printing.
Please note that the melamine manufacturing process involves many layers of melamine substance being added to the original print; this encapsulating process does alter the colours making them slightly less vibrant and sharp, and also the many layers of melamine coating can make the whites slightly creamy in colour. It is for these reasons that we insist customers see melamine samples before proceeding to final print.
